

COMMENCEMENT AT 8 TONIGHT

Largest Graduating Class of the School's History
Will Receive Diplomas;
Dr. D. F. Fox Will Deliver
Address.

"After we have graduated,
And all have gone their way,
Often we'll stop and wonder,
Where are they today?"

Good-bye Phoenix High school
We soon will have to part,
Even if we glad appear,
There's sadness in each heart.

We are leaving friends, companions,
And teachers ever true,
But we will hold in high esteem
The very thought of you.
BEULAH IRVIN.

The high school commencement exercises will be held in the auditorium this evening at eight o'clock sharp. Over one hundred and four students will receive P. H. S. diplomas. This is the largest class that ever graduated from Phoenix Union High.

Dr. D. F. Fox, valedictorian, Principal Cook selected as speaker for the commencement exercises, while on his visit on the coast a few weeks ago, arrived in Phoenix late last night from Pasadena, where he has his home. Mr. Fox is coming quite a long distance to address the graduating class of '16.

The class speeches will be made by Lavada Leister, salutatorian and Donald Willard, valedictorian. The high school orchestra will furnish music and a few songs will be sung by members of the junior class.

All Seniors received five tickets apiece for the commencement exercises while other students of the school got one each. The auditorium will be filled to the seating capacity and some will probably be turned away as reserved seats will not be held after 8:15.

PUTS UP A WINNING FIGHT FOR FORDS

Ed Rudolph Has to Stir Up Supply
Source Order to Fill
Local Orders

Ed. Rudolph, the Ford magistrate, is home again. He has stirred things up considerably with the Los Angeles branch and feels that he has enough cars lined up to take care of the demand for several weeks to come. Due to the marvelous prosperity throughout the east, Ford sales are running at phenomenal figures and in spite of the great production records being made at the factory, many look for another Ford shortage this summer.

Last week, while Rudolph was away the boys at the Ford garage sold eighteen new cars, the best week's record ever made here. This done, too, with the boss cut of town, so it is now up to him to show what he can do when on the job himself. Plans for his big accessory department, to be housed in the addition now under construction are coming along nicely.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Brush this through faded, lifeless locks and they become dark, glossy, youthful.

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark, shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Weyb's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Weyb's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Advertisement.

WOODS CHARGES CONSOLIDATION IS FOR REVENUE

City Commissioner Frank Woods at the regular meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon failed to secure the adoption of an ordinance repealing Ordinance No. 126, consolidating the offices of city clerk and city magistrate, but he did succeed in having read into the minutes of the meeting a report calculated to show that such consolidation would not be an economic move, but would be a step backward. He verbally reported that as a result of a personal investigation he was convinced that the action of the old commission in trying to consolidate the two offices was primarily a political move and actuated by a spirit of revenge against the incumbent of the office of city magistrate. For that reason, he desired the immediate repeal of the consolidation ordinance.

When a vote on the motion to repeal was taken, Commissioner Woods stood alone, but he felt that he had won a victory. In that his views in the matter were a matter of record. Incidentally, the ordinance in question has not become law, as a referendum petition circulated and presented by the Phoenix Trades Council was yesterday reported to have an adequate number of signatures, and the operation of the ordinance is thereby suspended pending the presentation of the ordinance to a vote of the people.

Upon the return of Mayor Corstine, who is absent from the city, it is reported that a special election will be called for an early date.

The report of Commissioner Woods shows that the receipts of the recorder's court in 1911 were $4786, in 1912 $5936, and in 1913 $7923, a total of $18,645, and a yearly average of $6215.

The receipts of the city magistrate's court from April 8, 1914, to March 31, 1915, were $12,948, and from March 31, 1915, to April 8, 1916, were $6971.65, a total for two years of $19,919.65, and a yearly average of $9959.

"This shows an average per year of $2298 greater than that of the recorder's court, and a total of $380 more in two years than the recorder's court yielded in three years," said Commissioner Woods.

"More than one-half of the collections made by the recorder's court in 1911, 1912, and 1913, was made from liquor or drunk and disorderly cases, and the average receipts for those years should properly be compared to the $12,948 collected by the city court during its first year, consisting of nine wet and three dry months.

"The city court receipts last year, $6971.65, were $852 less than those of the recorder's court in 1913, but greater by $1041 than in 1912, and by $2185 over 1911; they were also $758 more for the last year under prohibition than the average for the recorder's court during the wet period of 1911, 1912 and 1913.

"The receipts of the city court for the months of February and March, 1914, totaled $456.

"The city magistrate's report, in the hands of the commission, gives reasons for this shortage, and shows why the receipts for the year were not greater.

"The city court has now a different character of cases to handle, and they require more care and attention than was formerly given to court matters.

With proper attention to law violations and with the greater jurisdiction given the court under the state laws, the people can get better service, and the city more money, under the present than they can under the old system.

"From the viewpoint of economy and service, it would be a mistake to step backward."

While the report of Commissioner Woods and his verbal announcement that personal reasons were behind the movement for the consolidation of the two offices, furnished the pyrotechnics, the matter of immediate action on calling an election for the issuance of bonds in the sum of $600,000 to provide a municipal electric lighting and gas plant, provoked discussion lasting over an hour, in which several business men, including G. W. Barrows, Dr. W. C. Ellis, J. C. Adams and Judge Ainsworth, Manager Aller of the Pacific Gas & Electric company, as well as all the members of the city commission, took part.

Mr. Barrows urged that the commission fulfill its pre-election promise to put the matter of a municipal plant squarely up to the people at once. He said that unless this was done, it might be that a bond election would be initiated. He said that the necessity for immediate action rested in the fact that the Pacific Gas & Electric company was just now negotiating a contract that would hinder the city in securing power from the reclamation service later.

Mr. Adams presented a history of the work that has been done looking to a municipally owned and operated plant, as did Judge Ainsworth. Commissioner Ritchey objected to the attitude of the petitioners, saying the new commissioners had not had time to investigate the situation thoroughly, and that, while the commission was not to be coerced into action, it would act in due time. Manager Aller pleaded to have the entire situation investigated from all standpoints and to have all the facts placed before the public before a vote was had upon the matter.

The commission finally went on record as opposed to the execution of a contract until the people had had opportunity to vote, and promised to ask the department of the interior to withhold the execution of such a contract until the proposed investigation and the election could be had.

A committee from the Woman's club asked that the organization be relieved from the necessity of furnishing the new city rest-room. This the commission agreed to do, saying it was a municipal affair and not intended as a burden upon any outside organization.
